He remained in prison until September 30, when he was pardoned by King Ferdinand, prior to that King's abdication. For many years he had been leader of the Peasants and Agrarians in the Bulgarian parliament. In the middle ages Tirnova was the capital of Bulgaria.

Ogden Moore, son of Mrs. Anna C. Moore, 627 Third St., one of the first of the Lee county boys to be wounded on the battle fields of France, is en route to the United States, if he has not already arrived in New York City. In a letter to his mother he stated he had been before the disability board and had been ordered to the States. He was told he could eat Thanksgiving dinner at home, and he added in the letter that his legs had healed thoroughly, but that one arm is stiff and useless to him. His letter to his mother said he would probably be in New York by the time she received the letter, but that he would have to go to Washington to get his discharge from the army before he could come home.

'T WAS SERGEANT HECKMAN HURT

Through misinformation The TELEGRAPH last evening stated that Joseph Heckman had been wounded in France. The item was in error as to the young man's name, for it was Joseph's brother, Sgt. Edward James, who was wounded, his parents having received a message that he had been wounded Aug. 30, but was recovering very satisfactorily and was about ready to get back to duty. The former young man, a member of Co. M, 37th infantry, is located at Fort McIntosh, Laredo, Tex.

"Ding," New York Tribune Cartoonist, To Draw For Telegraph

WILL APPEAR DAILY

In this issue of The Evening Telegraph appears our first cartoon by "Ding" (Jay N. Darling), the cartoonist of the New York Tribune. "Ding's" cartoons will appear daily in The Telegraph.

In buying the service of "Ding" The Telegraph believes it has added a feature that ranks ahead of any news feature we have ever published. We believe our readers will appreciate the value of "Ding's" strong drawings and will recognize the artist as one of the greatest cartoonists in the world. They are the highest class of cartoons that ever have been published in Dixon.

Read what The Passing Show, of London, one of England's best known weeklies, says of these cartoons:

"This brilliant cartoonist of the New York Tribune is in point of forceful satire undoubtedly the greatest propagandist in the cartoon work in the Allies' ranks. Beneath all the lightness of the humorist is the force of a keen observer of world affairs."

BULLETIN

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Copenhagen, Nov. 2.—Complete submission to the allies' demands was advised by Count Reventlow, naval writer in the Berlin Tages Zeitung, of Tuesday. The article was very mild for the usually bellicose Reventlow.

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Valenciennes has fallen, the Italian troops in Italy are maintaining their pursuit of the Austrians and west of the Meuse and in Flanders Marshal Foch continues to press the Germans.

Canadian troops captured the important town of Valenciennes, after bitter fighting of more than 24 hours in the area south of the town.

With Valenciennes gone the Germans not unlikely will have to give up Tournai and retreat, both in Flanders and south of Valenciennes. With the British possessing the town and also the area east of the Scheldt and south of Valenciennes they outflank the enemy positions in the Mormal forest which defends Maubeuge and Mons. It is evident that the Germans must retreat or suffer heavy losses attempting to maintain their insecure positions from Ghent to the region north of the Aisne. The main German positions will begin to present a front on the Antwerp-Namur-Metz line.

TERMS WILL PREVENT AUSTRIA RESUMING CONFLICT

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Rome, Nov. 2.—The allied terms to Austria in response to her applications for an armistice were handed by General Diaz, the Italian commander in chief, to an Austrian officer, who entered the lines under a white flag. The official announcement was made today.

The conditions of the armistice were inspired by President Wilson's principles, namely, to render impossible the enemy recommencing the war and to prevent them from profiting by the armistice to withdraw from a difficult military position.

Greater Need Now.

It must be realized that the prospect of an early termination of the war is no occasion for a let-down in this drive, for with the coming of peace there will be an even greater need for the money this drive aims to collect than during war times. The funds collected November 11 are for the spiritual, mental and bodily welfare of our soldier boys, and as it will be long before demobilization can come, even after peace is declared, they will have more leisure and more need of the kindly offices of the various institutions such as the Y. M. C. A., Knights of Columbus, Salvation Army, etc., than ever before.

Met at Amboy.

A county meeting of nearly all of the townships in the county was held at Amboy yesterday in the offices of the Amboy Commercial club, presided over by Atty. P. M. James. There was a complete representation and a very enthusiastic group of men talked over the plans for the campaign.

Ed. Valle, Chairman of the County Finance Committee, explained the working details of the county organization and there were talks by Attorneys Edwards, Warner and Devine, Revs. Tidball, Kirkfleet and Connelly, E. B. Raymond, Secretary Davis of the "Y," and others. The address of Chairman James was especially interesting.

Last evening local organization men from the townships of Nachusa, Nelson, Palmyra, South Dixon and Dixon met in this city and talked over their plans for a week from Monday. The meeting was presided over by Albert Borst, Chairman of the Finance Committee talked at the Dixon meeting, as did E. J. Martin, Alfred Leland and others.

PROHIBITION

Engaging the Attention of Governments in All Parts of World. Make It Permanent.

PROHIBITION A SUCCESS

Prohibition in the United States is not an experiment. Twenty-eight States are dry by votes of the people or their chosen representatives, and three-fourths of the area of the remaining twenty States is dry by votes of the people in local option elections. Everywhere in all this dry territory the sentiment for prohibition is stronger than ever before.

"THE ORGANIZED LIQUOR TRAFFIC IS AS DOOMED TODAY IN THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA AS SLAVERY WAS WHEN LINCOLN SIGNED THE EMANCIPATION PROCLAMATION."

"PROHIBITION FACTS AND FIGURES" has just been compiled. It has been the endeavor to make this book a complete reference work on the Prohibition question. Every statement in it is based upon accurate and reliable information as to past and present conditions. You will find in this book an accurate answer to practically every question pertaining to Prohibition. It is not a book of generalities, but a book of FACTS AND FIGURES.

LADIES! LOOK YOUNG, DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Use the Old-time Sage Tea and Sulphur and Nobody Will know.

Gray hair, however handsome, denotes advancing age. We all know the advantages of a youthful appearance. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray and looks streaked, just a few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundred-fold.

Don't stay gray! Look young! Either prepare the recipe at home or get from any drug store a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which is merely the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients. Thousands of folks recommend this ready-to-use preparation, because it darkens the hair beautifully, besides, no one can possibly tell, as it darkens so naturally and evenly. You moisten a sponge or soft brush with it, drawing this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; after another application or two, its natural color is restored and it becomes thick, glossy and lustrous, and you appear years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

THE WIFE

By JANE PHELPS

MRS. CLAYBORNE GRACIOUSLY ACCEPTS MR. MANDEL'S INVITATION.

CHAPTER LXXXIV

Ruth hovered over her aunt solicitously as she removed her wraps; then proudly led the way to the dining room. Mrs. Clayborne did not restrain an exclamation of pleased surprise and delight as she saw the artistic room with the hangings of stuff given Ruth by her employer; the dainty table appointments, and all, came in for their share of admiration.

"Don't praise her too much, Mrs. Clayborne. You'll make her impossible to live with, if you do," Brian remarked facetiously, rather pleased at the way he had been greeted by this wealthy aunt of Ruth's.

He always had felt a smoldering sort of anger at Mrs. Clayborne, not only because of her objection to him, but because she had done so little for Ruth, who was the only relative she had, and so, at least he figured it that way, entitled to be given a part of what she would ultimately have.

But, had he known that, when Mrs. Clayborne found out he was not earning enough to support Ruth without her working she had changed her will which had left everything unreservedly to Ruth, and had put the money in trust for Ruth for the length of time they lived together, he might not have felt so elated by her suavity. Mrs. Clayborne had a fixed impression that Ruth would not long be contented as the wife of a poor man, so had arranged her matters with that in view.

The dinner was one of Rachel's masterpieces in the culinary line. "I show ole missis dat we uns kin cook in New York!" she had said to Ruth when told to get the very best dinner she possibly could.

"I see Rachel still knows how to cook," Mrs. Clayborne said, passing her plate for an extra helping.

"Indeed she does! I think she cooks better every day," Ruth replied. "I don't know how I ever lived without her, the dear old soul. Although we had a very good woman before she came. Brian was afraid I would be sorry I let Crawford go. He thought perhaps Rachel would be lonely here, all alone. But she hasn't complained at all."

"She loves you very dearly, Ruth. I hope you will always take care of her. I should, had she remained on the plantation."

"Of course we will! you need never worry about her as long as we have a roof over our heads." Then blushed as she thought perhaps her aunt might think the roof a dubious prospect for always.

All the next day Ruth and her aunt visited. They did not go out at all. Ruth told of her work, her employer, his kindness; and Mrs. Clayborne listened without remark. Then Ruth told of Brian. His ambition to learn typing so that he could save and be more independent at the same time, was enlarged upon. His thoughtfulness. She quoted his sending the flowers. The day was all too short for their confidences.

After dinner they went to the theatre. The seats were in the fifth row. "Just the right distance from the stage for aunt," Ruth thought complacently.

Then, Sunday, they had another happy day. They attended church in the morning; and in the afternoon went for a walk. After dinner Mr. and Mrs. Roberts came in to pay their respects to Mrs. Clayborne; and she seemed to approve of them, which delighted Ruth.

"A very refined, pleasant couple," Mrs. Clayborne had remarked. Ruth was about to tell her aunt that Clara Roberts did all her own work so Kenyon could get along, but caught herself in time. Why bring up a subject that would cause her aunt to say that she, too, might have remained at home, and so have helped Brian?

Monday Ruth went to work in the morning, as planned. Her aunt had said nothing when she explained. In the afternoon they did some shopping. Brian came up for dinner, but excused himself immediately afterward because of his lesson. If Ruth had hoped he would remain at home for that one evening she did not let it be seen; and when he returned before ten o'clock she reproached herself for having the thought.

The next day her aunt promised to meet Ruth near the shop. Ruth had said nothing of Mr. Mandel's invitation. If it came about unexpectedly, her aunt would be more likely to accept. Ruth joined her at the appointed place, then, their errand accomplished, she said:

"Will you go to the shop with me, Aunt Louisa? I should love to have you see the place."

"I'll go!" the answer was grim.

Ruth introduced her to Arthur Mandel, who was most deferential. He showed them over the shop, taking especial pains to point out the most expensive and exquisite objects as being of Ruth's selection. He then proffered his request that they lunch with him. Mrs. Clayborne at once accepted most graciously.

"He's in love with Ruth! I'll put nothing in the way of their being together. He's the sort of man she should have married, not an impecunious man like Brian Hackett," she said to herself as they waited for a cab to take them to Delmonico's. "Perhaps I will stay longer than I intended to."

TUESDAY'S ELECTION

Tuesday's election will be a very important one to the people of Lee County and to the state. Several questions will be before the voters at that time which are vital. In fact, it is difficult to say which of the questions to be decided are of the most importance. Surely every one of them should be carefully studied and voted upon.

THE TELEGRAPH recommends the election of the entire Republican ticket and the adoption of all three of the questions on the little ballots. We believe these recommendations are for the best interests and welfare of our own community, the state and nation.

We recommend the election of the Republican ticket so far as the United States senate and congress is concerned, because we believe that men who will vote in Washington according to Republican principles are needed there now and will be needed there in a much greater degree in the future. The Republican party is eminently fitted to guide the nation through the stormy times that are very apt to follow in the wake of the declaration of peace. The Democratic policy of free trade and low tariff would be suicidal during the period which is to come. German-made goods will be cheaper than ever before. American workmen and American farmers cannot and will not compete with the low wages and profits of a poverty stricken Europe. If the war does not end quickly, the Republicans in congress have shown a better spirit in pushing the war to the utmost than have their Democratic brethren.

The Republican state and county ticket should, and will be elected in total. It needs no apology and speaks for itself, for the men whose names appear thereon are men of unquestioned ability and integrity, and they will give the people of this state and county the maximum of service and efficiency. Vote for all of them.

The $60,000,000 good roads bond issue is of prime importance to Dixon and Lee county. It would appear to be unnecessary to set forth the arguments in its favor, although we are informed that there are men in Lee county who will vote against it on the grounds that none of the five main roads leading out of Dixon which are to be paved by the state will pass their doors. Such selfishness and short-sightedness is hard to understand.

If the state bond issue builds the main roads of Lee county it will mean that the county itself can much more quickly build the roads of lesser importance. It means that men who live in more remote parts of the county will get hard roads quickly, whereas if the bond issue does not pass, it will be half a century before they will have good roads in their neighborhoods.

The construction by the state of the main roads in Lee County will save this county many thousands of dollars. The state will build the roads and maintain them, with no tax. We get them free. And Lee county can then go ahead and use the money they would have spent on the main roads to build the roads of lesser importance.

ELECTION TUESDAY NOV. 5TH

Remember that Lee county will get hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of permanent hard roads, kept up for all time, free, if the bond issue carries. Also remember that you must vote "YES" to vote for it, and that if you neglect to vote for it it is the same as voting against it, for a majority of all votes on the main ticket is necessary for it to carry.

The tuberculosis sanatorium is another proposition which surely should receive unanimous approval from the voters. Its cost to Lee county will be very little, and the sanatorium which will be built here if the measure is adopted, will save many, many lives—perhaps the life of your own wife or baby. Don't hesitate, and don't leave the question to others, for you vote against it if you fail to vote. Both men and women vote on this proposition.

The State of Illinois needs a new constitution so that we may have the many up-to-date laws and systems that this great state is so sadly in need of, including woman's suffrage. Vote for the constitutional convention.

MAJOR E. B. OWENS IN FAVOR OF SANATORIUM

Dixon Surgeon, Now With U. S. Army, Gives It His Endorsement

COMING TO CAST VOTE

In the following letter to R. C. Bovey, Secretary of the Lee Co. Tuberculosis Sanatorium Committee, Major E. B. Owens, M. C. U. S. A., located at Columbus Barracks, heartily approves the proposals to establish such an institution in Lee Co.:

Your letter of the 26th inst., received and read with interest. Had not noticed that effort was being put forth in Dixon to bring about the establishment of a Free Sanatorium for the diagnosis and treatment of tuberculosis. The movement is certainly one which should meet the approval and have the support of every intelligent person in the county. Its early recognition and proper care is exceeded by no other disease known to medicine in importance. The bringing together of large bodies of men, made necessary by the present war, has brought forward the importance of "carriers" which applies to tuberculosis as well as the more acute diseases met with. What will have been learned to lessen the incidence of infectious diseases and improvement in their treatment will, to my way of thinking, in part at least make up for the loss of life in the great upheaval now in progress but which we all hope will be settled for all time. I not only most heartily endorse the resolutions as signed by the Lee County Medical Assn. but I fully expect to be home and add my vote for it. Statistics show that approximately one per cent of the rejections among recruits are due to acute tuberculosis.

GOOD ROADS BOND ISSUE WILL WIPE OUT STATE'S SHAME

Vote for the $60,000,000 good roads bond issue, because—

1. It is a scandal that out of 96,000 miles of highway in Illinois, only 800 are now improved.
2. It will lower the cost of living and increase the farmer's profits.
3. It will insure the construction of 4,800 miles of permanent hard roads connecting every county seat in the state.
4. It will provide jobs for thousands of men when peace comes; $50,000,000 will be spent in wages.
5. It will make possible the establishment of motor truck freight lines, benefiting both producer and consumer, and relieving railroad congestion.
6. It will greatly benefit rural education. Attendance in 10,600 one room country schools in Illinois is now greatly reduced when present roads are impassable.
7. It means shortening the distance to the doctor in the country when human life is at stake.
8. It means the opening of 4,800 miles of new and beautiful roads for automobile trips.
9. It will not add a cent to anybody's taxes. All the money will come out of automobile license fees, which must be paid whether the bond issue passes or not.
10. It requires a majority of all the voters at the election next Tuesday to secure its passage. If you don't vote for it, you practically vote against it.

E. C. Kennedy made a business visit to Morrison on Friday.

"INFORMATION"

"Information" is the young lady whose duty it is to supply telephone numbers that are not in the telephone directory, or telephones that have been changed since the directory was last issued.

But in spite of the fact, more than one-half the calls that "Information" handles are for numbers that are properly listed in the telephone directory.

This means that more than one-half of the people who call "Information" waste their time, for it takes more time to get a number from "Information" than from the telephone directory. In addition, the practice prevents "Information" from serving people who have a real need for her services.

FREE TRADE FOR UNITED STATES

One of President Wilson's Peace Proposals Would Make America a Free Trade Nation.

Chicago, Oct. 29, 1918.

Col. Frank L. Smith, chairman of the Republican state committee, in a statement declares that Senator James Hamilton Lewis, who is asking the support of the citizens of Illinois for re-election, would make the United States a free trade nation if the resolution of his now pending in the senate is adopted. The resolution would give President Wilson the power to do everything and anything he desired in connection with the war and in the establishment of peace.

"One of the terms of peace offered by President Wilson to the German empire," said Colonel Smith "provides that 'all economic barriers should be broken down.' This means free trade with all the world, placed in a treaty, which is the highest law of the land, and which cannot be repealed except with the consent of all the nations signing it."

"Congressman Graham of the Fourteenth Illinois district has just returned from a trip to France where he had opportunities of learning the views of the statesmen of France and England as to the meaning of the clause of the President's peace provisions. In commenting upon this question Congressman Graham said: 'At the time the president made his address to congress January 8, 1918, he gave as the third clause of the terms upon which he said peace could be made the following: The removal so far as possible of all economic barriers and the establishment of fair equality of trade conditions among all the nations consenting to the peace and associating themselves for its maintenance.'

"While there may be doubt in the United States as to what this proposition of the president means, there is but little doubt that in England and France this third clause is understood as meaning universal free trade among the peacemaking nations after the war. Mr. Arthur Henderson, head of the national labor party in England, in an interview on August 27th last, expressed the view that he construed this clause of the president's message as meaning universal free trade, and that his party so understood it. The labor party of England has adopted universal free trade as a part of its platform. Inasmuch as the party headed by Mr. Henderson is today a powerful and probably a controlling factor in English politics it is no doubt true that when the war is ended and peace terms are being considered this strong element in England will insist that the United States comply with what it believes President Wilson has openly advocated—free trade."

"This resolution fathered by Senator Lewis would permit the president to make us a free trade country, and naturally Lewis is committed to the president's free trade propaganda. 'I am sure that the people of Illinois are not in favor of free trade and do not want a free trader in the United States senate from this state. Neither do the laboring people of this state want free trade which would compel them to compete with the poorly paid labor of Germany, Japan, England and France. Neither does the business man, the manufacturer or the farmer of Illinois want this kind of foreign competition.'

"A Republican senate would not ratify a treaty making this nation a free trade nation nor would Republicans permit foreign competitors to determine our financial and economic policies. We are not fighting this war for either protection or free trade, and the settlement of this question should not be left to foreign countries but should be determined by Americans. It is unthinkable that this should be incorporated in a treaty of peace where it cannot be repealed without the consent of the other signatory powers, no matter how destructive it may prove to our country's cause."

DEMOCRATIC CONGRESSMEN.

The Illinois Democratic state platform asks for the return to congress of all of the Democratic candidates and says: "We are proud of the record they have made and we offer them as our candidates without being forced to make a single excuse for their acts." In this connection it will be interesting to compare the records of the Democratic congressmen with those of the Republicans. Four Republican congressmen have resigned their seats to fight for their country in France. Not a single Democratic congressman from any state has taken any chance. Seven sons of Republican congressmen from Illinois have volunteered and most of them now are in the trenches. Not one Democratic member of congress from Illinois has a son in any branch of the army.

Without the support of Republicans in congress the government would have been unable to secure necessary legislation for the prosecution of the war. The best illustration of this was the measure known as the selective service law. Democrats in congress vigorously opposed it and it was finally written on the statute books through the leadership and votes of the Republican members of the house of representatives, and without this support this most essential measure would have failed.

HEAD HIGHWAY ASSN. PREDICTS SUCCESS OF BOND ISSUE TUESDAY

Edens. "We have had remarkable support from the leaders of all political parties, from labor and agricultural organizations, from the women's clubs and from business, religious and fraternal associations."

"As a last warning to our friends we say do not fail to vote the little ballot. If you vote at the election and neglect the little ballot your vote will be counted against the good roads proposition for we need a majority of all votes cast for members of the general assembly. The method of financing the bond issue exclusively from automobile fees has gained favorable attention from every state in the union."

"Illinois is the first state to propose a road financing plan under which there is no tax against the home of the workingman or the land of the farmer. The entire cost is borne by automobile owners who will save, in repairs, more than the amount involved. It is a sound business proposition put up to the voters of the state and their appreciation of the economic principles involved will be shown by the returns on election day."

CHRISTIAN CHURCH WILL NOT RESUME SUNDAY.

The Christian church will hold no services tomorrow but as soon as conditions have become normal, they will be resumed, with 2 p. m. Sunday as the Sunday school hour and 3 p. m. as the hour for the preaching service. These services will be held in the Baptist church and Rev. Ralph Callaway of Sterling will preach.

POINTS TO REMEMBER WHEN BUYING REAL ESTATE

1st.—See that the neighborhood and surroundings are good, and that transportation to it is satisfactory.

2nd.—Insist that the seller furnishes you with an Abstract of Title.

3rd.—If the seller can't furnish an abstract showing a good title, do not buy. Large investors, like Hetty Green and Sile Tompkins, require this, and you should insist upon receiving the same.

4th.—If you are "trading" properties, see that the other fellow hasn't inflated the price of his property so that he gets yours for nothing.

This is mighty important, for a couple of trades of this kind would put the other fellow in a gilded chariot and you in the County Home.

5th.—Have the property conveyed to yourself and wife by JOINT TENANCY DEED; then if either of you die, the survivor will own the property without the trouble and expense of going thru the Probate Court.

Go to any good lawyer and he will see to it that you receive the above, and that the hired girl doesn't get the property.

GEORGE McMANUS

Whose portrait and comic characters are here presented, stands today without a peer as a daily comic artist. For years he has been in the front rank, his Sunday comic features, "The Newbys," "Their Only Child," "Rosie's Beau," and last of all, "Bringing Up Father," having given him nation-wide popularity and fame. Of all his creations, however, the one that has most endeared him to American readers is his great daily comic strip

BRINGING UP FATHER

In this comic is unfolded the story of "Father" Jiggs, and how his socially ambitious wife, Maggie, and their daughter, struggle to make him over in manners and associations to conform with their views of Society's demands. Jiggs is by nature a "non-conformist." The results as depicted by McManus, are side-splittingly funny.

Starting November 4 and regularly thereafter this world-famous comic will appear in
